Get high-speed Internet service

- Have you wished that your dial-up Internet connection were faster, because you do heavy Web surfing and e-mail?

- Have you downloaded music, video, or software applications on a dial-up connection just to find out it takes a long time?

- Have you wished your dial-up sessions were always on and did not drop connections or have busy signals?

You, like millions of households, could benefit from a broadband Internet connection. We have partnered with leading broadband service providers to offer a convenient, Web-based tool to assist you in determining what broadband services are available in your area, and making it easy to qualify and sign up.
